

This is a collection of the songs and tunes I've collected over the years.

They are built and arranged in the way that works for me and not particularly intended for public consumption but you are welcome to view and download any or all in the hope that this can be a resource for you when building your own library of songs and tunes.

About the “Key:” Most songs & tunes are in the Key that most people expect them to be in but not all of them. Where a standard key does not work for my singing voice, I’ve usually changed the key to work for me. So, be aware that when you trot some of these out in a Jam, folks may be expecting a different key. Just go with it...

About the “Fn:” Don’t worry about that. It’s a personal code for me so I can remember what the first notes of a song or tune should be. My own personal “Memory Aid”!

Be careful about printing – some of these files are pretty darn big.
